A large, stylized graphic of a sailboat mast and sail dominates the right side of the page. The mast is a thick black vertical line. The sail is a large, dark, curved shape that tapers towards the top. The number '69' is printed in a white, stylized font within the lower part of the sail.

This small but spirited group of Seniors put in long, hard hours to produce our 1969 Memories. As our deadlines came due, Mrs. Hallett stood fast as a guiding force while we all panicked. We laughed, fought, argued, hashed, and thrashed together, creating memories that we will never forget. And this is what remains; a word and picture account of the 68-69 year as we will always remember it.

These Seniors started out twelve years ago and have come through it all together.

Ladoga Students Receive Coveted Awards

Pam Baird was this year's Ladoga recipient of the D.A.R. award.

John Luther won the Montgomery County American Legion Speech Contest for the third Straight year. He also placed second in the district contest.

These three musicians placed first at the area music contest. Marcia Blix (piano), Lou Ann Brown (piano), and Wendy Brown (vocal solo).

This year Ginger Tribby won the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award.

Don Kail, Bob Sandusky, Dan Priebe (alternate), and Dave Gilbert (alternate), represented Ladoga High School at Hoosier Boy's State. Pam Baird and Ruth Oliver (alternate) were our representatives to Hoosier Girl's State.

For the first six years of our education, this is the building we came to know so well. We learned to get along with classmates and respect and obey our teachers, and formed our first ideas of the world around us. As we say good-bye to Ladoga High School, we look back fondly to our days in the grade school building.

Athletics is a big part of our high school life, and basketball season is awaited perhaps the most anxiously of all. At ball games, students let themselves go in support of our Cannons and it looks as though Coach Younkin has a loyal rooter, too!!

Roger Young, our cross-country standout, this year surpassed his own school record for the grueling two-mile course.

In track, this watch records the times upon which our hopes for success rest. In the spring, Cannon thinlines jog the streets to condition themselves for the race against the clock.

Ladoga also tries its hand at the arts. The Senior Class this year put on "The Magic Touch," and Mr. Younkin and the cast put in long hours of rehearsal to memorize lines and perfect delivery. Shown above are Ginger Tribby, Joyce Wilhite, and Roy Billstrom.

The Halloween Carnival is a big night for young and old alike. The Juniors prepare the dreaded "Morgue," the Seniors conduct a cake walk and basketball throw, and the masquerade for the grade school gets everyone into the act.

As the crowd watches on, Queen Bonnie Myers, accompanied by Bob Sandusky, parades as reigning queen.

Runner-up Julie Todd receives her corsage from a flustered Bob Sandusky.

Crown bearer Kevin Brewer and flower girl Shelly Weninger walk proudly out onto the floor.

Bob Sandusky (25) struggles for possession of the ball as Jim Stadler (53) and Dennis Davidson (45) look on.

The Cheerleaders enthusiastically back the team.

Our Students Constantly Strive To

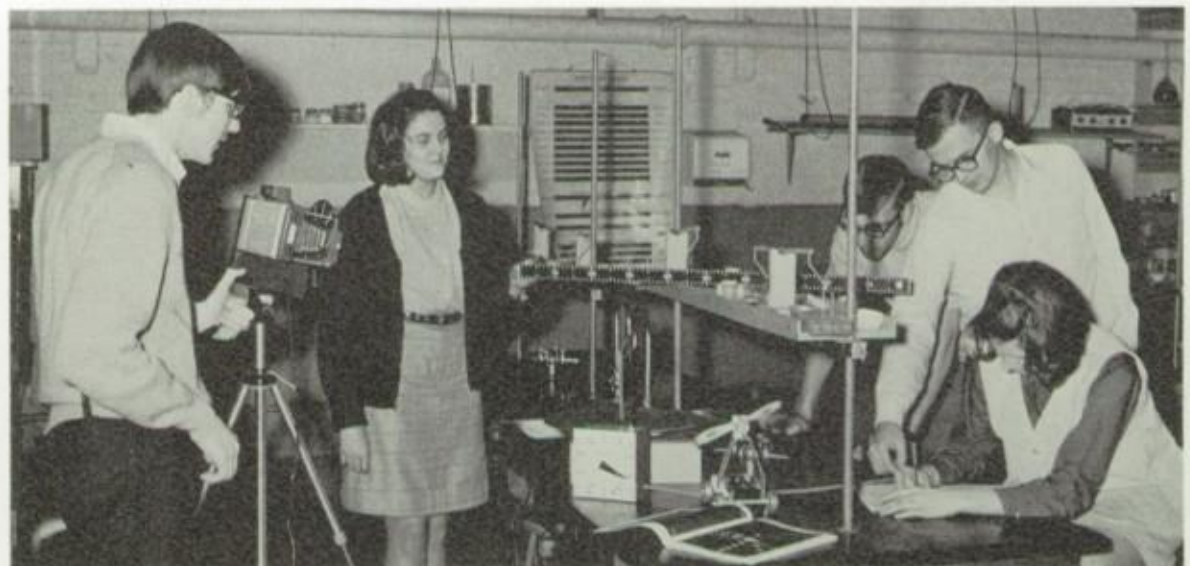

Seniors learn the workings of local, state, and federal governments from Mrs. Lynch in government class; a trip to the State House in Indianapolis provided a first-hand look at our Indiana government at work.

In American History class, the Juniors learned that history could be fun, especially with Mr. Bay's sometimes humorous analogies.

In the new Harvard Projects Physics course, taught by Mr. Thompson, students learn by doing to grasp modern physics concepts.

Reach Higher Levels Of Knowledge.

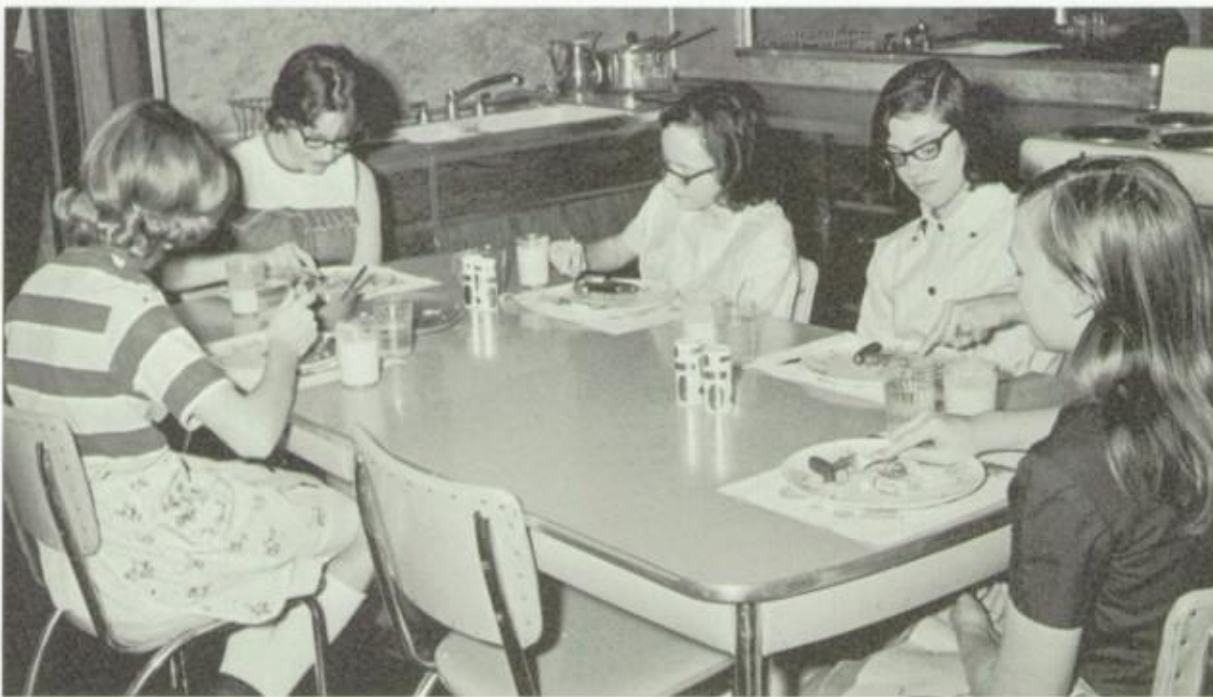

Mrs. Hallett instructs students in American Literature to take a closer look at the world in which they live.

Speech class under the direction of Mr. Younkin, offers a chance for young orators to practice their skills on a usually attentive audience.

Mrs. Ludlow oversees a typing class in which many students learn skills they will put directly to use in future careers.

In Home Economics, under the direction of Mrs. Robertson, seventh grade girls test their cooking skills by sampling their own work.

Boys learn valuable woodworking skills in industrial arts classes. Here Mr. Kaiser shows David Kelly how to put hinges on a lid.

Members of the art class, taught by Mr. Greenwood, use their creative ability to prepare papier mache' animals for the Spring Art Exhibit.

Clubs and organizations give students an outlet for their own personal ambitions. Members of Student Council learn the principles of a self democracy. To be eligible, candidates must have a C average. Members of the Council consisting of ten representatives from each class, grades seven thru twelve, are selected by class elections. The Honor Societies serve to give some recognition to students with scholastic achievement. In order to be selected for the Honor Societies a student must earn a 3.0 point grade index and receive a high rating in each of the categories of leadership, service, and character from the high school faculty.

The Science Club, under the direction of Mr. Thompson, sponsored a Science Fair, movies for the community, and took a field trip.

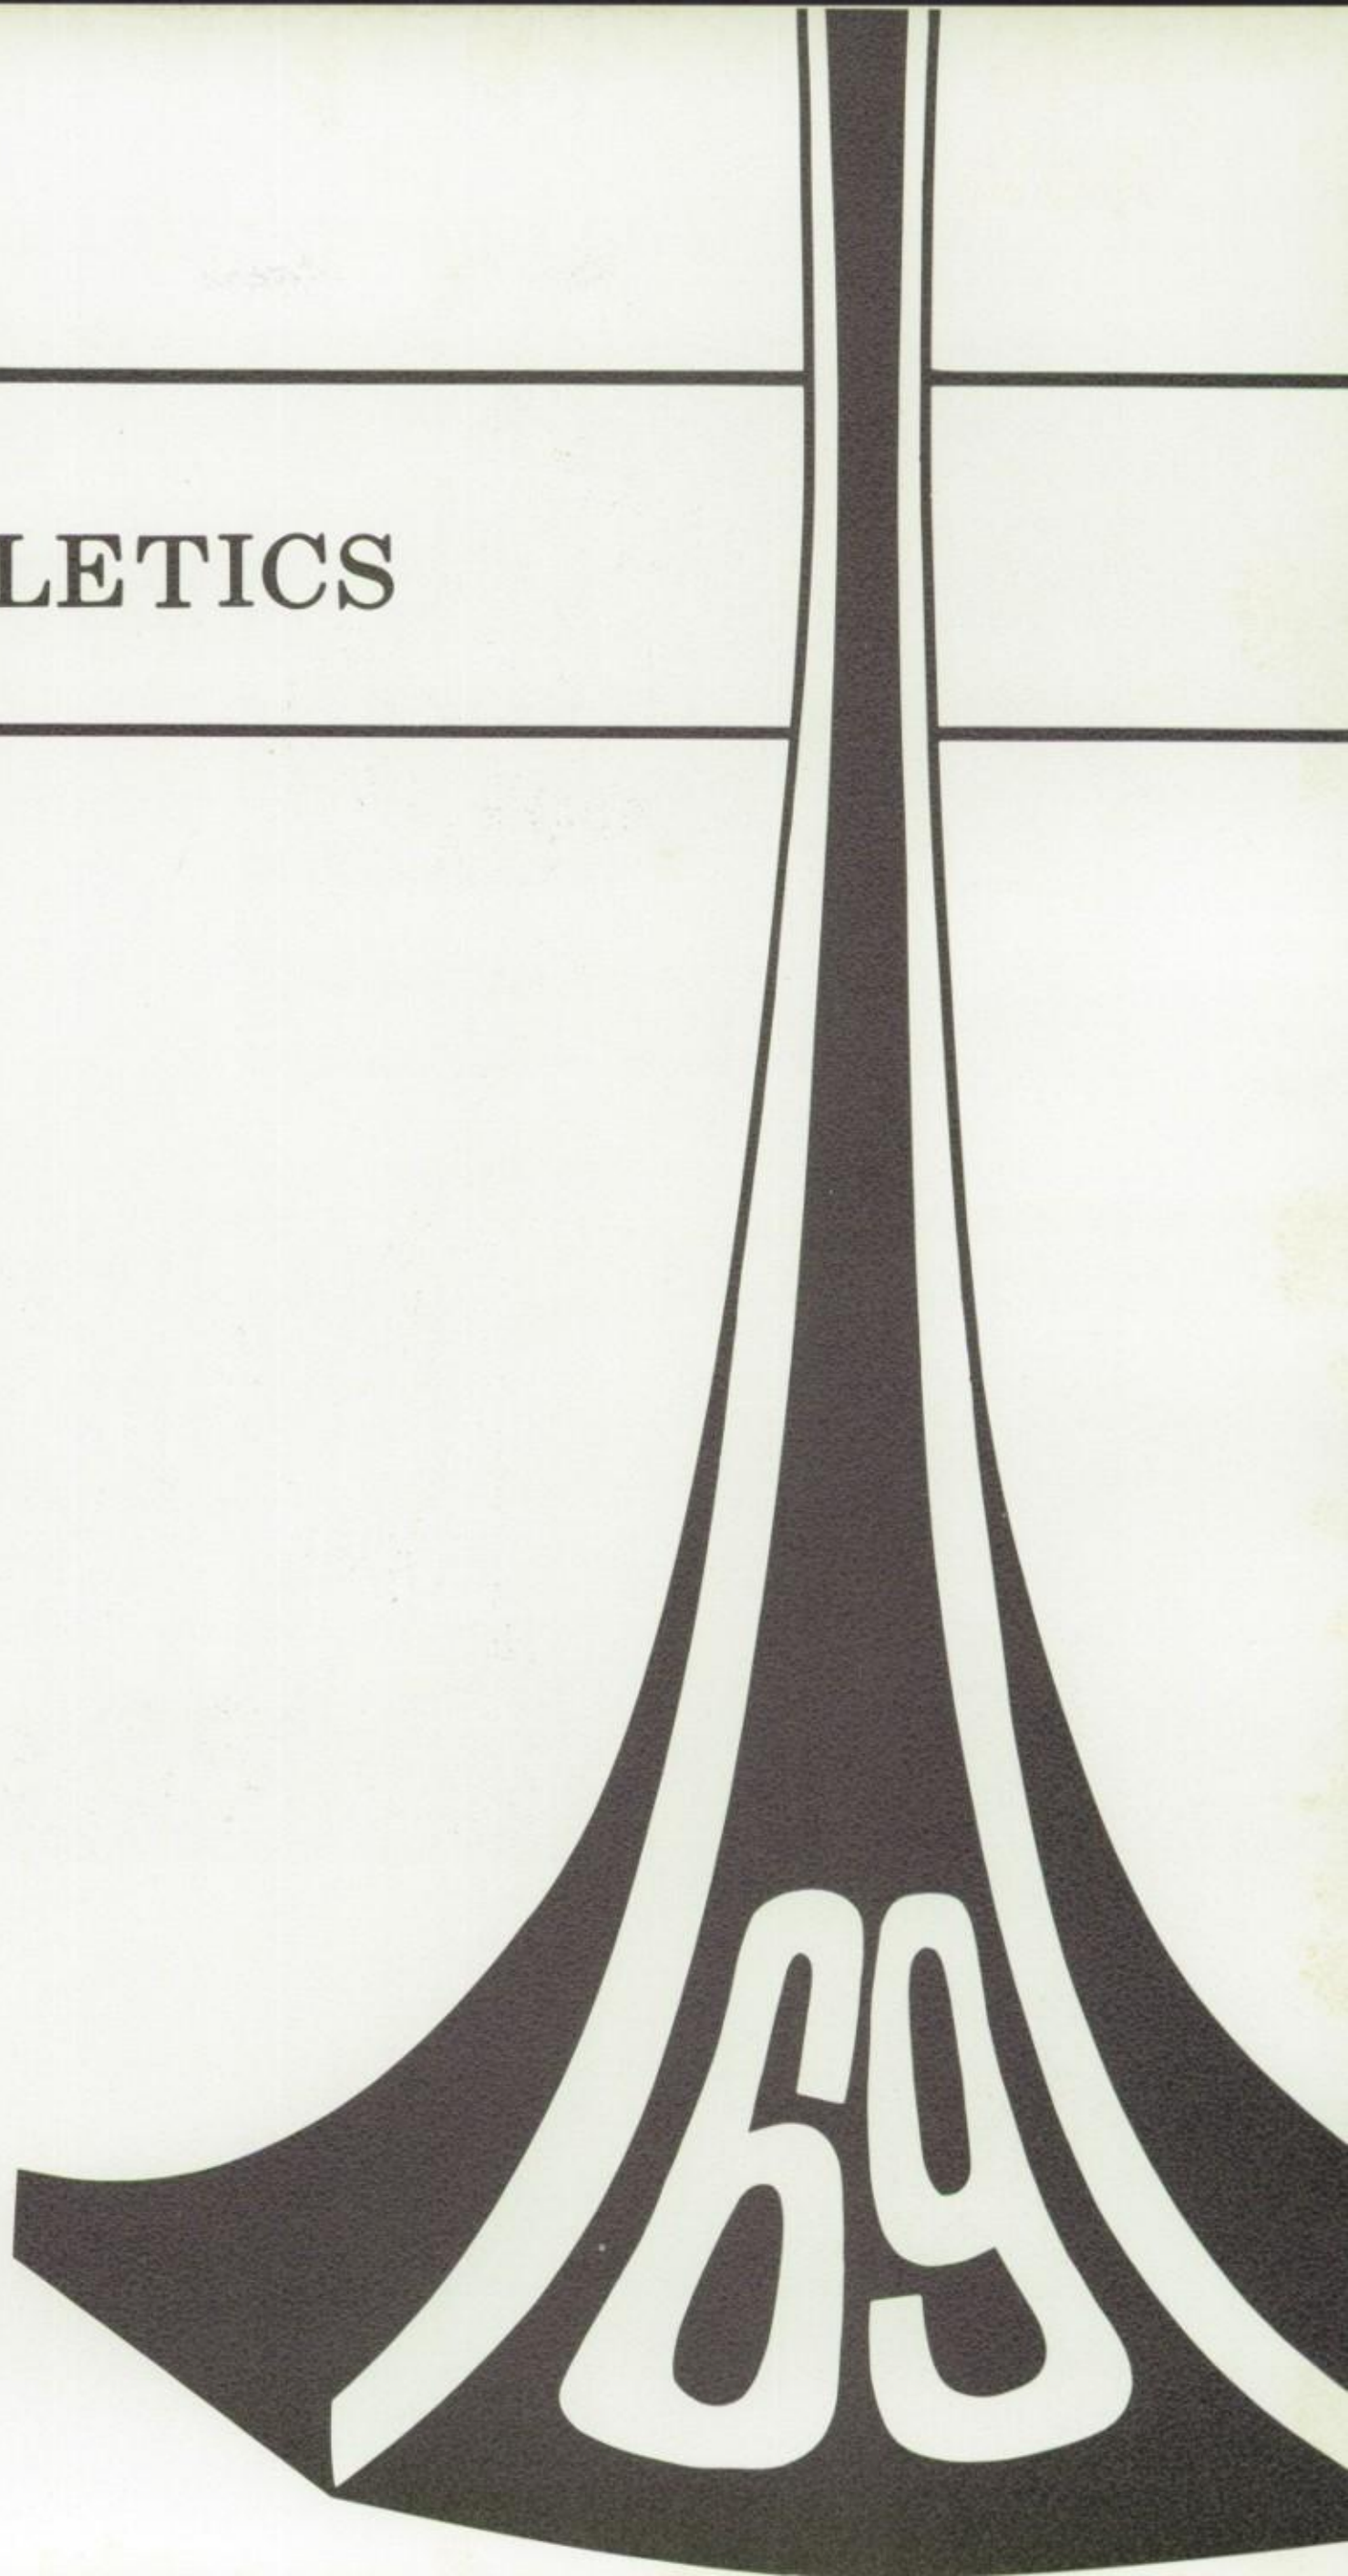

Projectionists are responsible for showing movies and filmstrips in the elementary and high school classes. They are sponsored by Mr. Sphor.

In addition to their regular duties, librarians help prepare the interesting bulletin boards in the study hall.

ATHLETICS

The Concentrated Efforts Of Many

The pep club provided energetic support for our athletic teams. During the 1968-69 school year they worked very hard with the cheerleaders to build up school spirit at Ladoga High School and their efforts have been greatly received by the coaches and fans. Their letters of encouragement to the ball team and coach during the tourneys helped the Canner cause this year.

To receive a jacket an athlete must earn five varsity letters in our six varsity sports at Ladoga. These Varsity Athletes received hard-earned letter jackets this year. Left to right—R. Young, D. Kail, J. Stadler, D. Priebe, P. Fiene, D. Vice, D. Davidson, D. Williamson.

Varsity Cheerleaders—left Paulette Ingram; Center, Kneeling, Marcia Blix; Center, Standing, Pam Baird; Right, Deb Cook. Our cheerleaders have brought new pep and life to the student body this year, and their antics at pep sessions helped the team greatly. Among their surprises were tricycle races, presents of cupcakes and shoestringgs, and a super-Canner-player computer that all rallied the team. They attended Indiana State Cheerleader Camp during the summer and are all members of the International Cheerleaders Foundation.
